The Oklahoma State Fair Creative Programs Department proudly announces the renaming of the Championship Cake Baking Contest to honor Melba Lovelace, a well-loved columnist for the Oklahoman who passed away January 27, 2021 at the age of 90.

Melba graduated from Panola High School and started working at The Oklahoman as a secretary managing the dictation and typing pool in the early 70's. She was soon named general news editor who saw a lot of bad copy. Melba decided she could write a better column than some that were coming in – and she did! Choosing to write about her passion for cooking and tips for homemakers and hobbyists, her column was a hit and soon named Melba's Swap Shop.

Later, Melba became a judge at the Oklahoma State Fair, where she judged many different contests, but her favorite was the Championship Cake Baking Contest. Oklahomans knew they could find her here judging and would frequently stop by to see if they could get some advice from such a knowledgeable judge.

The Oklahoma State Fair is honored to rename this contest in her memory.
